We are often asked how to verify the case status. It is a very simple process. You can verify your case status online from your home or office, even from your cell phone!You only have to access USCIS Case Status Online directly through uscis.gov.The Case Status Online landing page shows other quick reference online tools, such as how to change your address online, how to submit an inquiry about your case (e-Request), case processing times and how to locate a USCIS office.To check your case status using our online tool, you have to have your case receipt number. This receipt number is a unique 13-character identifier that USCIS provides for each application or petition it receives, and its used to identify and track its cases. The receipt number consists of three letters followed by 10 numbers. For example, the letters can be EAC, WAC, LIN, SRC, NBC, MSC or IOE. You can find it on notices of action USCIS has sent you. Checking Your Case Status OnlineCase Status Online landing page. We encourage you to read USCIS privacy act statement, which appears under the check status button, before checking your case status.When entering your receipt number, you should omit dashes (-), but you can include all other characters, including asterisks (*) if they are listed on your notice as part of the receipt number. Checking Your Case Status OnlineEnter your receipt number. Omit the dashes, but include all other characters including asterisks if they are listed on your notice as part of the receipt number.The online system will show the last action taken on your case and will let you know the next steps, if applicable. We also provide helpful reminders to keep your address current and how to submit inquiries. Checking Your Case Status OnlineThe system will show your case status and let you know next steps.If you want to check an additional case now is the time to do so by entering a new receipt number in Enter Another Receipt Number field. Remember to try the other online tools on the homepage or create an account with USCIS at my.uscis.gov. The personalized account allows you to receive your most recent case updates including up to the last five actions on your case, simplifies case management, and access to your electronically filed applications. It is free and easy to use!If you still have questions or concerns on any information you can check our website at uscis.gov or call the USCIS Contact Center at 1-800-375-5283. Check your application processing time and find out when to contact us for the status of your Form 1023-EZ, 1023, 1024, 1024-A, or 8940. On this page What to expect after you submit your application We assign applications for exemption and miscellaneous determination requests to exempt organization specialists for review. If your application is complete and we dont need more information, you may receive an approval letter in the mail without any further contact from us. If we need more information before making a determination, well contact you or your authorized representative by phone or mail. Check if your application is already approved Check if your approval letter has posted on Tax Exempt Organization Search (TEOS). The letter may appear on TEOS before you receive the determination letter by mail. Expediting your application Form 1023-EZ cant be expedited. In certain cases, other applications may be expedited. This means well process them ahead of others. Check application processing times Find the current processing time for the form you submitted. Expand/Collapse all When processing is complete, youll generally get a determination letter. However, if you arent eligible to file Form 1023-EZ, we will reject your application and send you a rejection letter. If you submitted before May 8, 2025: We are currently reviewing Form 1023-EZ applications submitted before May 8, 2025. We issue 80% of Form 1023-EZ application determinations within 22 days. Note: Even if your Form 1023-EZ is complete, we may need more information. If your application requires more information or further review, well contact you by phone or by mail. We issue 80% of application determinations requiring further review within 120 days. Were currently reviewing Form 1023-EZ applications requiring additional review submitted on April 27, 2025. If you submitted after May 8, 2025: Your application has not yet been assigned. Please check back later. Dont contact us at this time because we cant provide a status of your application. When processing is complete, youll generally get a determination letter. If you submitted on or before November 14, 2024: Your application is being reviewed. We issue 80% of Form 1023 application determinations within 191 days. If you submitted after November 14, 2024: Your application has not yet been assigned. Please check back later. When processing is complete, youll generally get a determination letter. If you submitted on or before November 7, 2024: Your request is being reviewed. We issue 80% of Form 8940 determinations within 215 days. If you submitted after November 7, 2024: Your application has not yet been assigned. Please check back later. Dont contact us at this time because we cant provide a status of your application. If you havent received a determination letter Many factors affect processing times, including the number of applications we receive and staffing levels. Each year we receive over 115,000 applications for tax-exempt status and other determinations and we process them in the order we receive them. Case-specific factors may also make certain applications more complex, requiring additional time. If your Form 990 is due and you havent received an approval letter You must file your annual return (for example, Form 990) even if you havent received a determination letter. Check the box on page 1 of Form 990 or 990-EZ that your application for exempt status is pending. If applicable, include any appeal of a proposed adverse determination. If you have over $1,000 in unrelated business income, you must also fileForm 990-T, Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return. If you submit Form 1023-EZ when youre not eligible Before you submit Form 1023-EZ, review the Form 1023-EZ Eligibility Worksheet and attest that you meet the requirements. If you misrepresent or fail to disclose a material fact, it may adversely affect your reliance on any favorable determination letter received. If you submit Form 1023-EZ and we determine that you are not eligible to file Form 1023-EZ, we will reject your application. You will receive a letter that explains why you arent eligible to file Form 1023-EZ. If your Pay.gov application fee is rejected Youll get a notice that a new user fee is required with steps to resubmit. This change provides you with the most accurate information about your job applications.After you apply for a job, the hiring agency is responsible for providing the status of your application (for example, application received or referred). You can check your application status by clicking the Track this application link for each application. The hiring agency may also send you emails with updates on your application.How do I see my application status?Sign into your USAJOBS profile.Go to your Applications located on your Dashboard pageyour active applications display automatically by the date they were last updated.View your list of applications. The job status is highlighted for each application.Click Track this application to view your application status. The link will take you to the hiring agency application system, which has the most up-to-date status of your application.Click the + to see more application details.You can also find and filter your applications. If you don't see the Track this application link, contact the agency point of contact on the job announcement.An application status is only available if you submit your resume through USAJOBS using the Apply button. We can't track your application if you submitted it to an agency website or any other method such as fax, email, or mail.What is a job status?A job status tells you where the job is in the hiring processwhether a hiring agency is accepting applications, reviewing applications, has completed the hiring process, or canceled the job.Accepting applicationsThis job announcement is open and accepting applications. You can apply now.Reviewing applicationsThe job announcement is closed, and the hiring agency is reviewing applications. This status will display until the hiring process is complete. If you want to see more details about your application status, click Track this application.Hiring completeHiring is completed and the position is filled.NOTE: Currently, you will see Reviewing applications even if the hiring is complete. The hiring agencies are responsible for marking a position as hiring complete and are updating their application systems to show this status in mid-2021.Job canceledThe agency withdrew the job announcement and did not hire anyone. An agency can cancel a job announcement any time after they post a job.Job closedThe job's closing date passed, and the hiring agency did not receive any applications through our online application process. This status will also appear for jobs that do not accept online applications, and the closing date has passed.Are there status delays for faxed documents?Yes. If you fax a resume or any other documents, there may be a delay between when the documents are faxed and when they appear as received on an application. If you have questions about the status of your faxed documents, contact the hiring agency.How long can you keep your applications?We will permanently remove all applications (active and archived) 36 months after the closing date. You can print the announcements or export application information to excel if you wish to keep a record of them beyond the 36-month period.How to find and filter applicationsYou can find and filter your active and archived job applications by statusthis is the status the hiring agency reports to USAJOBS.FilteringChoose either your Active or Archived application list.Click Find & filter applications.Select at least one of the status checkboxes. You can select more than one status at a time.
