Fortunately, redeeming Dinosaur Simulator codes is much easier than surviving in a world full of predators. Similar redemption systems are often found in other Roblox games, and the whole process takes just a few clicks. Still, if you don't understand how to redeem Dinosaur Simulator codes or if you have any trouble, here is a detailed guide: Launch Dinosaur Simulator. Restart the game to get to the main menu if you're already playing. In the main menu, look at the bottom of the screen. Several buttons will be arranged in a row. Interact with the one that says Promo Code. This will open the redemption menu. There will be an input field and a blue Submit button next to it. Now, enter manually, or better yet, copy and paste one of the above-mentioned active codes into the input field. Lastly, click on the blue Submit button to submit your rewards request. If everything is done correctly, you will see a notification on the screen with a list of rewards received. If you want to get more Roblox codes on your own, you should check the primary source, namely the official pages of the game or developers.
