

Study Helps The Last Supper is a very special event in the Bible. It was the final meal Jesus had with His disciples before His crucifixion. During this time, He shared important teachings and symbols that are still meaningful to Christians today. This meal included bread and wine, which represent Jesus body and blood. Understanding these moments helps us see the love and sacrifice Jesus made for us. Today, we will look at some key Bible verses about the Last Supper. These verses remind us of Jesus message of love, service, and forgiveness. They also highlight the importance of communion in Christian faith. Lets reflect on these powerful scriptures together! Bible Verses About The Last SupperJesus Institutes the Lords SupperWe recognize that during the Last Supper, Jesus set forth the practice of communion, establishing a sacred tradition for His blood. This act invites us into a deeper relationship with Him and one another. As we reflect on these verses, we feel the conviction of His love and sacrifice, which unites us as believers. Together, we can understand that communion is not just a ritual, but a moment of spiritual connection, remembrance, and gratitude.Matthew 26:26-28While they were eating, Jesus took bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it and gave it to his disciples, saying, Take and eat; this is my body. Then he took a cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them, saying, Drink from it, all of you. This is my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins.' Matthew 26:26-28In this verse, we see Jesus instituting the communion meal with His disciples. The bread represents His body, broken for us, and the wine signifies His blood, shed for the forgiveness of our sins. Through this profound symbolism, He invites us into His sacrifice, communicating the extent of His love.Luke 22:19-20And he took bread, gave thanks and broke it, and gave it to them, saying, This is my body given for you; do this in remembrance of me. In the same way, after the supper he took the cup, saying, This cup is the new covenant in my blood, which is poured out for you.' Luke 22:19-20This passage emphasizes the significance of remembrance in communion. By sharing in the bread and the cup, we are called to remembrance in communion. By passing on this teaching, we see the importance of preserving the memory of Jesus sacrifice through the act of communion, thereby affirming our faith in Him.Mark 14:22-24While they were eating, Jesus took bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it and gave it to his disciples, saying, Take it; this is my body. Then he took a cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them, and they all drank from it. This is my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many.' Mark 14:22-24The actions of Jesus, taking and giving bread and drink, show His desire to share His life with us. His words are an invitation for us to partake in His sacrifice, reminding us of the connection we have in Him.John 6:53-54Jesus said to them, Very truly I tell you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise them up at the last day.' John 6:53-54In this verse, Jesus emphasizes the profound spiritual significance of consuming His body and blood. He uses strong language to illustrate that participating in communion is essential to our spiritual life, connecting us to the promise of eternal life. The Significance of Communion is more than a ritual; its a profound declaration of our faith. forgiveness, and the essence of His sacrifice. We come together, united as one body, to remember His love and grace. With each shared meal, we celebrate the gift of salvation and express our gratitude for all He has done for us. As we partake in communion, let us open our hearts fully to the message of hope it offers and embrace our connection with Him and each other. Acts 2:42They devoted themselves to the apostles teaching and to fellowship, to the breaking of bread and to prayer. Acts 2:42This verse illustrates the early churchs community and communion in nurturing our faith.1 Corinthians 10:16-17Is not the cup of thanksgiving for which we give thanks a participation in the blood of Christ? And is not the bread that we break a participation in the body of Christ? Because there is one loaf, we, who are many, are one body, for we all share the one loaf. 1 Corinthians 10:16-17Here, Paul expresses how communion embodies our unity in Christ. By sharing the cup of thanksgiving for which we give thanks a participation in the blood of Christ? Because there is one loaf. 1 Corinthians 10:16-17Here, Paul expresses how communion embodies our unity in Christ. By sharing the cup of thanksgiving for which we give thanks a participation in the blood of Christ? Because there is one loaf. 1 Corinthians 10:16-17Here, Paul expresses how communion embodies our unity in Christ. in the body and blood of Jesus, we become interconnected as His followers, participating in His life and mission together. Colossians 3:16Let the message of Christ dwell among you richly, as you teach and admonish one another with all wisdom through psalms, hymns, and songs from the Spirit, singing to God with gratitude in your hearts. Colossians 3:16This verse encourages us to maintain a heart of gratitude, which is essential during communion. As we remember what Christ has done, we are also encouraged to express our thankfulness through worship and community.1 Corinthians 11:26For whenever you eat this bread and drink this cup, you proclaim the Lords death until he comes. 1 Corinthians 11:26In this verse, Paul reminds us that each time we participate in communion, we make a proclamation of faith. We affirm Christs sacrifice and anticipate His return, strengthening our hope in Him. John 13:34-35A new command I give you: Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love one another. By this everyone will know that you are my disciples if you love one another. John 13:34-35 Jesuss command underscores the importance of love among believers, which is beautifully embodied during communion. As we come together, we are reminded of His love for us and are called to extend that love to each other. The Call to Servanthood The Last Supper is also a powerful reminder of humility and servanthood. Jesus, knowing He was about to face His crucifixion, demonstrated this by washing His disciples feet. This act challenges us to lead with a servants heart, reminding us that greatness in Gods kingdom is often found in humble service to others. As we reflect on these verses, we should strive to emulate Jesus model, fostering love, humility, and selflessness in our lives as we partake in communion. John 13:4-5So he got up from the meal, took off his outer clothing, and wrapped a towel around him. John 13:4-5In this moment, we see Jesus humbling Himself, teaching us to follow His example.Mark 10:45For even the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many. Mark 10:45Jesus purpose on earth underscores the call to servanthood. By giving His life for us, He sets the ultimate example that we are called to follow, teaching us to value service over authority. Philippians 2:5-7In your relationships with one another, have the same mindset as Christ Jesus: Who, being in very nature God, did not consider equality with God something to be used to his own advantage; rather, he made himself nothing by taking the very nature of a servant, being made in human likeness. Philippians 2:5-7Here, Paul encourages us to adopt Jesus attitude of humility and service in our relationships. This verse serves as a reminder that true strength is found in our willingness to serve one another.Luke 22:27For who is greater, the one who is at the table or the one who serves? Is it not the one who is at the table? But I am among you as one who serves. Luke 22:27Jesus challenges our perceptions of greatness and service in this verse. He demonstrates that true leadership is found in serving others, encouraging us to embrace a heart of service. Matthew 23:11The greatest among you will be your servant. Matthew 23:11With this statement, Jesus redefines greatness in His kingdom. By highlighting servanthood as a path to greatness, He invites us to cultivate humility and live a life marked by love for others through acts of service. The Promise of RedemptionAt the Last Supper, Jesus not only established a new tradition but also fulfilled Gods promise of redemption. The elements of the meal symbolize His sacrifice for our sins, offering a pathway to eternal life. In sharing communion, we remember that through Jesus death and resurrection, we are made new. others, spreading the good news of salvation together. The precious blood of Christ ensures our release from sins hold, a central theme of communion, emphasizing the significance of His sacrifice. Ephesians 1:7In this verse, we see that our redemption is not merely a transaction but a deep expression of Gods grace. It reminds us of the richness of what Christ has done for us, a cornerstone of our faith. Hebrews 9:22In fact, the law requires that nearly everything be cleansed with blood, and without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness. Hebrews 9:22In fact, the law requires that nearly everything be cleansed with blood, and without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness. Hebrews 9:22In fact, the law requires that nearly everything be cleansed with blood, and without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness. communion, we remember Christs ultimate sacrifice and significance for our forgiveness fully. John 3:16For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life. John 3:16Here we see the essence of Gods redemptive plan through Christ. This verse embodies hope as we partake in communion, celebrating the eternal life given through Jesus sacrifice for all. The Fellowship of Believers During the Last Supper, Jesus not only established a new covenant but also fostered community among His disciples. The act of breaking bread together signifies our shared faith and unity as believers. As we engage with these verses, we embrace the call to build relationships rooted in love, support, and service. Together, we strengthen our fellowship, reflecting the love of Christ in our interactions and deepening our connection with one another. Hebrews 10:24-25And let us consider how we may spur one another on toward love and good deeds, not giving up meeting together, as some are in the habit of doing, but encouraging one another and all the more as you see the Day approaching. Hebrews 10:24-25 This passage emphasizes the importance of community and mutual support among believers. As we gather, especially during community and mutual support among believers. came together to break bread. Paul spoke to the people and, because he intended to leave the next day, kept talking until midnight. Acts 20:7Pauls gathering with fellow believers exemplifies the practice of communal worship. Breaking bread together reinforces our commitment to fellowship and the strengthening of our faith through shared experiences.1 John 1:7But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus, his Son, purifies us from all sin. 1 John 1:7We are reminded that our fellowship is grounded in the light and the sacrifice of Christ. Recognizing His purification allows us to walk in unity and love, essential elements during communion. Acts 2:46Every day they continued to meet together in the temple courts. They broke bread in their homes and ate together with glad and sincere hearts. Acts 2:46This verse reflects the early churchs joy in fellowship. As we reflect on communion, let us embrace the spirit of togetherness, sharing in both our joys and struggles. Romans 12:10Be devoted to one another in love. Honor one another above yourselves. Romans 12:10This call to love and honor reflects the essence of communion, building each other up in faith. Remembering Christs SacrificeCommunion serves as a powerful reminder of the sacrifice Jesus made for us. In our busy lives, we often forget the price He paid for our salvation. As we partake in this sacrifice while inspiring us to share His message with others. Matthew 26:39Going a little farther, he fell with his face to the ground and prayed, My Father, if it is possible, may this cup be taken from me. Yet not as I will, but as you will.' Matthew 26:39This moment captures Jesus emotional struggle before His crucifixion. It shows His willingness to obey the Fathers will, reminding us of the depth of His sacrifice and His commitment to our redemption. Isaiah 53:5But he was pierced for our transgressions, he was crushed for our transgressions, he was crushed for our transgressions, he was crushed for our transgressions. significant impact of His suffering on our lives. We find healing and peace through His wounds, a theme cherished during communion.1 Corinthians 15:3-4For what I received I passed on to you as of first importance: that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures. 1 Corinthians 15:3-4Paul emphasizes the foundational truths of our faith here, centered around Christs death and resurrection. As we remember His sacrifice during communion, we affirm the cornerstone of our beliefs. Romans 6:23For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. Romans 6:23This verse starkly contrasts the consequences of sin and the gift of eternal life. It serves as a reminder that Jesus sacrifice provides us an opportunity to partake in salvation and life. Hebrews 10:10 And by that will, we have been made holy through the sacrifice of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. Hebrews 10:10 And by that will, we have been made holy through the sacrifice of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. sufficiency of Christs one-time sacrifice for our sanctification. Every time we share in communion, we celebrate the completed work of Christ on our behalf. Final ThoughtsAs we reflect on the Last Supper and its meaning, we recognize how profound these moments are for us as believers. Each Bible verse reminds us of Christs love, sacrifice, and the beauty of communion. We are called to embrace servanthood, deepen our connection with one another, and strive to live in the light of His love. Let us continue exploring the richness of Scripture, diving deeper into topics such as the Lords Supper and the Resurrection of Jesus. Together, we can grow in our faith and understanding of Gods love. Has the site of the Last Supper been found? The story of t the Last Supper in 33 AD, when Jesus sat with his 12 apostles and revealed that one among them would betray him - identifying that man as Judas Iscariot. He also told his followers that his death was near and Jesus was crucified by the Romans shortly after being arrested. According to The Daily Mail, the location has been depicted in several artworks dating back to at least the fourth century AD - which was also when Christians first started visiting the room to honour Christ's last moments of freedom before his crucifixion - thousands of people still visit the Upper Room every year, reports the Mirror US.Experts believe the house it was held in is still standing(Image: Getty Images)In the story, Jesus blessed the bread and wine, and explained it symbolised his body that would be broken and the blood he would shed for the forgiveness of their sins - it is still referenced symbolically today during Christian services incorporating the eucharist sacrament. The Upper Room, believed by archaeologists to be the site of the Last Supper, also known as the Cenacle, was originally a prayer room capable of accommodating over 120 people. This location is briefly mentioned in the Book of Luke 22:11-13, where Jesus asks for a large, furnished upper room where he and his disciples could share their Passover meal. This two-storey house is situated in Jerusalem's old city on Mount Zion, positioned above the southern gate. It was built with large, branching columns that supported a vaulted ceiling and a sloping red roof that remains unconfirmed whether the building existed during Jesus' time. In 1884, while constructing a new church in Madaba, Jordan, Greek Orthodox Christians discovered what is thought to be the earliest map of Jerusalem, dating back to 560 AD. The map was created as a depiction of the Holy Land, showcasing the Cardo Maximus (main street) and two sacred structures at the southern end, identifiable by their red roofs. They say they're close to locating it(Image: Getty Images)However, it wasn't until 2017 that David Christian Clausen, an adjunct lecturer in Religious Studies at the University of North Carolina, noticed something unusual. He was drawn to a building with the same red, sloped roof as the Cenacle, located in the exact same spot. Scholars were stunned when they stumbled upon a drawing from sixthcentury Italy in 1846 that portrays Jesus ambling through Jerusalem's southern gates on a donkey, with what could potentially be the site of the Last Supper, known as the Cenacle, in the background. The discovery gives gravitas to the narrative found in the Book of Matthew, depicting Jesus' entry into Jerusalem as a fulfilment of Zechariah's prophecy; this prophesy anticipated a 'Second coming of Jesus Christ' and the revival of the dead. Adding depth to this story is the citation: "Tell the city of Zion, Look, your king is coming to you! He is humble and rides on a donkey and on a colt, the foal of a donkey." seemingly shows Jesus post-resurrection, standing before Mary Magdalene with a structure sporting a distinctive slanted roof behind him. However, the Book of John suggests Jesus ventured back to the Upper Room after his resurrection, a detail that might connect the depiction with the gospel narrative, although not every expert is on board. There are dissenting opinions suggesting the image may actually depict Christ with an unnamed kneeling woman pleading for healing, as opposed to alluding to his triumph over death. A depiction of Jesus at the Last Supper (Image: THE CHOSEN)In an epic project reminiscent of a Dan Brown thriller, the Israel Antiquities Authority (IAA) launched a trailblazing examination of the Cenacle in 2019, using cutting-edge laser scanning and high-definition photographic techniques to peel back layers of history and uncover the original appearance of the site believed by many to have hosted the Last Supper." I felt like I was in the book by Dan Brown, 'The Da Vinci Code'," said Jerusalem district archaeologist Amit Re'em, sharing his intrigue with Fox News. "We needed to decipher the ancient symbols." Carefully surveying every nook and cranny, the researchers crafted create accurate models of the space, unveiling unusual characteristics including obscure artwork featuring Agnus Dei or Lamb of God emblems, alongside the Lion of Judah iconography on the ceiling."The lion was the symbol of King David," Re'em highlighted to Fox, with a nod to historical texts that align Jesus as a scion of King David. The veracity of the Cenacle as the true venue for the Last Supper has yet to be pinned down, pointed out Re'em, citing a lack of concrete archaeological proof. The dilapidated state, poor lighting, and numerous renovations at the site have long stood in the way of a thorough investigation, according to the IAA."From time to time, when we have an opportunity, we're continuing to document other parts of the holy complex," explained Re'em to Fox."I hope that maybe, in the future, we will have the opportunity to conduct a small-scale classical archaeological investigation."Here are 98 Bible verses about the last supper, curated from both the Old and New Testaments of the Holy Bible, King James Version, arranged from most to least relevant.18 And as they sat and did eat, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you which eateth with me shall betray me. 19 And they began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? and another said, Is it I? 20 And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve, that dippeth with me in the dish. 21 The Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of Full Chapter | Parallel Translations | Explain Verse23 For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, that the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed took bread: 24 And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. 25 After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, this cup is the new testament in my Full Chapter | Parallel Translations | Explain Verse19 And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me. 20 Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you. 21 But, behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is with me on the table. 22 And truly the Son of man Full Chapter | Parallel Translations | Explain Verse6 Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.Full Chapter | Parallel Translations | Explain Verse2 And as they did eat, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take, eat: this is my body. Full Chapter | Parallel Translations | Explain Verse Suggest a Verse The Last Supper is one of the most significant events in the Bible. It's a moment filled with deep meaning and symbolism. This article brings together 50 Bible verses that capture the essence of that night. Each verse offers a unique perspective on the Last Supper, providing insights and reflections. What Does the Bible Say About The Last Supper is a moment in the Bible that holds deep meaning and significance. It's a time when Jesus shared a final meal with His disciples, offering teachings and symbols that continue to resonate today. This event is captured in various verses, each shedding light on different aspects of that night. One key theme is the idea of sacrifice and new beginnings. Verses like Matthew 26:26-29 and Luke 22:19-20 highlight Jesus offering His body and blood as a new covenant. This act symbolizes a fresh start and a promise of redemption, encouraging us to find hope and renewal in our own lives. Betrayal is another powerful theme. Verses such as Matthew 26:14-16 and John 13:21-27 remind us of the fragility of trust and the importance of staying true to our values, even when others let us down. Communion and unity are central to the Last Supper. Verses like 1 Corinthians 10:16-17 and John 6:51 emphasize the importance of coming together and sharing in spiritual nourishment. These teachings encourage us to seek connection and support within our communities, finding strength in shared faith. Finally, the Last Supper is rich with teachings on humility and service. John 13:12-15 and Luke 22:26-27 show Jesus washing His disciples' feet and teaching that true greatness comes from serving others. This message inspires us to lead with kindness and humility in our daily interactions. 50 Bible Verses About The Last Supper10 Bible Verses on The Last Supper10 Bible Verses on The Last Supper Significance1) Matthew 26:26-29And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, blessed and broke it, and gave it to the disciples and said, Take, eat; this is My body. Then He took the cup, and gave it to them, saying, Drink from it, all of you. For this is My blood of the new covenant, which is shed for many for the remission of sins. But I say to you, I will not drink of this fruit of the vine from now on until that day when I drink it new with you in My Fathers kingdom. Meaning: The Last Supper isn't just a meal; it's a profound moment of connection and promise. Jesus is offering a new beginning, a covenant that transcends the old ways and brings hope for the future. 2) Luke 22:19-20And He took bread, gave thanks and broke it, and gave it to them, saying, This is My body which is given for you; do this in remembrance of Me. Likewise He also took the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new covenant in My blood, which is shed for you. Meaning: While the world often teaches us to focus on the material, this verse reminds us of the deeper, spiritual connections that truly matter. It's a call to remember the sacrifices made for us and to find strength in that shared bond.3) Mark 14:22-25And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, blessed and broke it, and gave it to them and said, Take, eat; this is My blood of the new covenant, which is shed for many. Assuredly, I say to you, I will no longer drink of the fruit of the vine until that day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God.Meaning: Consider how this moment redefines the essence of community and sacrifice. It's a powerful reminder that true connection often comes through shared experiences and mutual commitment.4) John 13:1-5Now before the Feast of the Passover, when Jesus knew that His hour had come that He should depart from this world to the Father, having already put it into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simons son, to betray Him, Jesus, knowing that the Father had given all things into His hands, and that He had come from God and was going to God, rose from supper and laid aside His garments, took a towel and girded Himself. After that, He poured water into a basin and began to wash the disciples feet, and to wipe them with the towel with which He was girded. Meaning: You can almost fee the weight of love and humility in this moment. It's like watching a king kneel to serve his people, showing that true greatness lies in selfless acts of kindness.5) 1 Corinthians 11:23-26For I received from the Lord that which I also delivered to you: that the Lord that which I also delivered to you: that the Lord Jesus on the same night in which He was betrayed took bread; and when He had given thanks, He broke it and said, Take, eat; this is My body which is broken for you; do this in remembrance of Me. In the same manner He also took the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new covenant in My blood. This do, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of Me. For as often as you eat this bread and drink this cup, you proclaim the Lords death till He comes. At the Last Supper in the Bible, Jesus Christ shared his final meal with the disciples on the night before he was arrested. Also called the Lord's Supper, the Last Supper was significant because Jesus showed his followers that he would become the Passover Lamb of God. All four Gospels give an account of the Last Supper in the Bible. The Last Supper in the Bible constitutes the biblical basis for the practice of Christian Communion. The story is found in Matthew 26:1730; Mark 14:1225; Luke 22:720; and John 13:130. At the Last Supper in the Bible constitutes the biblical basis for the practice of Christian Communion. The story is found in Matthew 26:1730; Mark 14:1225; Luke 22:720; and John 13:130. At the Last Supper in the Bible. Communion or the Eucharist by saying, "Do this in remembrance of me." The episode includes valuable lessons about loyalty and commitment. On the first day of the Festival of Unleavened Bread, or Passover, Jesus sent two of his disciples ahead with very specific instructions regarding the preparation of the Passover meal. That evening Jesus sat down at the table with the apostles to eat his final meal before going to the cross. As they dined together, he told the 12 that one of them would soon betray him. One by one they questioned, "I'm not the one, am I, Lord?" Jesus explained that even though he knew it was his destiny to die as the Scriptures foretold, his betrayer's fate would be terrible: "Far better for him if he had never been born!" Then Jesus took the bread and the wine and asked God the Father to bless it. He broke the bread into pieces, gave it to his disciples. He said, "This is my body, given for you. Do this in remembrance of me." Then Jesus took the cup of wine and shared it with his disciples. He said, "This is my body, given for you. Do this in remembrance of me." of God's new covenant to save youan agreement sealed with the blood I will pour out for you." He told all of them, "I will not drink wine again until the day I drink it new with you in my Father's Kingdom." Then they sang a hymn and went out to the Mount of Olives. All 12 disciples were present at the Last Supper, but a few key characters stood out. Peter and John: According to Luke's version of the story, two disciples, Peter and John, were sent ahead to prepare the Passover meal. Peter and John were members of Jesus' inner circle and two of his most trusted friends. Jesus: The central figure at the table was Jesus. Throughout the meal, Jesus illustrated the extent of his loyalty and love. He showed the disciples who he wastheir Deliverer and Redeemerand what he was doing for themsetting them free for all eternity. The Lord wanted his disciples and all future followers always to remember his commitment and sacrifice on their behalf. Judas: Jesus made it known to the disciples that the one who would betray him was in the room, but he did not reveal who it was. This announcement shocked the 12. Breaking bread with another person was a sign of mutual friendship and trust. To do this and then betray your host was the ultimate treachery. Judas Iscariot had been a friend to Jesus and the disciples, traveling together with them for more than two years. He took part in the Communion of the Passover meal even though he had already determined to betray Jesus. Hisdeliberate act of betrayal proved that outward displays of loyalty mean nothing. True discipleship comes from the heart. In this story, the character of Judas represents a society in rebellion against God, but the Lords handling of Judas magnifies Gods grace and compassion for that society. All along Jesus knew Judas would betray him, yet he gave him countless opportunities to turn and repent. As long as we are alive, it's not too late to come to God for forgiveness and cleansing. The Lords Supper marked the beginning of Jesus' preparation of the disciples for future life in the Kingdom of God. He would soon depart from this world. At the table, they began to argue about which of them was to be considered the greatest in that kingdom. Jesus taught them that true humility and greatness come from being a servant to all. Believers must be careful not to underestimate their own potential for betrayal. Immediately following the Last Supper Story, Jesus predicted Peter's denial. Passover commemorated Israels hurried escape from bondage in Egypt. Its name derives from the fact that no yeast was used for cooking the meal. The people had to escape so quickly that they did not have time to let their bread rise. So, the first Passover meal included unleavened bread. In the book of Exodus, the blood of the Passover lamb was painted on the Israelite's door frames, causing the plague of the firstborn to pass over their houses, sparing the firstborn to pass over the firstborn to pass ov which is poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins." (Matthew 26:28, ESV). The disciples had only known of animals sealed the old covenant between God and his people. The blood of Jesus would seal the new covenant. It would open the door to spiritual freedom. His followers would exchange slavery for sin and death for eternal life in God's Kingdom. expressions of redemption.
