Trophy Base: this ring-style base with double-layer core does anything to prevent the attacker to go for the core of your base. It's almost impossible to go through that core to get a 3-Star. Also a solid base for CWL. Farming Base: also a ring-style here with a pretty wide perimeter that makes building a funnel really annoying and requires a lot of good timing from the attacker side to break into the base well and go for the center where the main part of resources are well-protected. The way the attacker needs to approach the base is really inconvenient (for the attacker) and efficient for making it really hard to even get the 2-Star. Farming Base: this base has the primary focus on the Dark Elixir Storage in the core and an offset Town Hall. The Gold & Elixir Storages are more on the outside so only use it if you want to farm Dark Elixir right now - otherwise I can recommend the farming ring base below from last week. You will not regret using this base and you will even pick up some defensive victories against other TH13 attackers with it. Farming Base: this farming base has the Dark Elixir Storage in the very core and the other storages around it in the ring. The special thing here is that there are smaller intersections in the outside ring to intercept with funneling so chances are lower for the attacker to actually get his troops into the center of the base. Town Hall 13 Bases - February 1st, 2021TH13 War & CWL BaseTH13 Trophy BaseT against it. Trophy Base: Offsetting the Town Hall to make the general troop pathing different worked really well and I was able to pick up several defensive victories in Legend League with it. Writing the whole defensive technique here would make it far too much, so take my word when I tell you that attackers don't like this base! Farming Base: this farming base is pretty compact to protect as many resources as possible, with the Town Hall, Clan Castle and Dark Elixir in the core and then multiple layers of rings around it to take the attacker away from the inside of the base. The offset Town Hall makes this base does it really effective version of a ring base with intercepting compartments in the outside ring, making it a lot harder to funnel troops. And how does this help protecting resources? Well, Dark Elixir in the core which is hard to reach and all other storages are spread around the base of getting all your loot means the attacker needs to 3-Star this base (not happening). Attackers had problems bypassing the perimeter already with all the storages there it takes a load of troops to actually build a proper funnel. Farming Base: this base works well if you're facing. Head Hunter, Super Minions, that's the real deal here. Trophy Base: We've seen bases like that a little more frequently and it looks like the dead zones core layout like this one is starting to pick up some advantages so I used this base here lately that had some nice success in defending trophies. Farming Base: This farming base for TH13 uses the simple approach of using the full space of the village map with large spaces in between buildings to make it harder to predict traps and also make time a bigger thing for the attacker as well as taking splash value out of the equation. I also tested the new super troops and found them underwhelming because they are really squishy to use, so stick to the classic Super minion combinations. Trophy Base: This trophy base for TH13 has the Eagle Artillery in the center and the Town Hall offset to force the attacker to go directly that path to have any chance to get any stars and percentage against this base. This path, of course, is full of traps and other "pleasures" to make it as hard as possible for the attacker. Worked really nice in my tests. Farming Base: The Town Hall is offset here in this layout to have space in the core to get more storages in there The compartments around the core work well in distracting and slowing down attacking troops and the easy-to-get Town Hall is another motivation for attackers to not ultimately go for the core. All centralized Town Hall with open section to the bottom and empty spaces on the sides, also really effective in CWL!Trophy Base: super interesting approach on the core design with the Scattershots in their own sections that split the ring around the core's dead zone that works really well with troops AI and also forcing the attacker to re-think funneling. I had great results using this base in Legend LeagueFarming Base: this war base takes the general approach of a trophy base with the offset Town Hall in one side and the Eagle Artillery on the other side and places the Dark Elixir storage in the center with the Clan Castle and other storages on the inside as well. Worked really effectively for me lately. Town Hall 13 Bases - November 23rd, 2020TH13 War & CWL BaseTH13 Trophy BaseTH13 Farm BaseBase Strength: Attention! Trophy Base: This trophy base for TH13 doesn't use the "all-storages-out" method with a strong center section that includes the heroes as well as the cc. The Eagle Artillery and risk not getting the Town Hall. Farming Base: this layout is not a classic ring base by definition and uses an extra compartment section on the outside but leaves the dead zone ring around the base to maximize chances that the attacker don't get all of them.Town Hall 13 Bases - November 16th, 2020TH13 War & CWL BaseTH13 Trophy BaseTH13 Farm BaseBase Strength: Attention! The bottom compartment is stuffed and can't get taken out easily so I haven't seen one 3-Star against this base so far. Trophy Base: This trophy base forces the attacker to actually decide to go either for the section with the Town Hall (and deal with an Eagle Artillery shooting at the troops during the whole attack), or into the Eagle Artillery and risk missing the Town Hall for the 2-Star. The core is designed to split troops to the sides which makes this base really effective. Farming Base: this dynamic farming base for Town Hall 13 lets you switch around storages, depending what resource you want to protect more. You have a well-protected core here surrounded by other compartments that try to get the troops away from the core. Town Hall 13 Bases - November 9th, 2020Alright, the Super Minion is officially working really well as a defending troop at Town Hall 13 with the distance and damage done so it is on top of the defending meta right now at TH13.TH13 War & CWL BaseTH13 Trophy BaseTH13 Trophy BaseTH13 Farm BaseBase Strength: Attention!
