In terms of underrated brands to shop for summer, Boden ranks high on my list. And just one scroll through the brands new arrivals section should explain why! Boden is constantly churning out the best of the best when it comes to wearable dresses, colorful linens, playful accessories, and so much more. Plus, this seasons swimwear selection is totally unmatched I placed an order for multiple suits (all with matching sarongs) after spotting a friend in one and falling in love with the sensational print. While some brands that hone in on bold colors miss the mark in terms of timelessness, Boden gets it right year after year. Its combination of playful prints and patterns with timeless silhouettes and high-quality linens and cottons has yielded pieces that earn its keep in my wardrobe summer after summer, year after year. But that doesnt mean I cant justify a few new additions for summer 2025, right? Below, a few favorites I couldnt stop myself from ordering, plus some additional picks I think would benefit any summer wardrobe, available in sizes 0 to 22.Cleo Linen Tie Waist Dress, $165Comfy But Cute: Alberta Footbed Sandals, $199Amy Sleeveless Shirt Dress, $175Supportive Swimwear: Porto Bikini Top, $79 and Porto Bikini Bottoms, $79To Be Mixed & Matched: Westbourne Linen Pants, $179 and Sienna Linen Shirt, $99Giant Rik Rak Swimsuit, $149Vintage Vibe :Embroidered Cotton Cardigan, $185Halter Linen Dress, $198Multi Strap Flat Sandal, $185Timeless Staple: Full Poplin Maxi Skirt, $185Collared Henley Sweater, $115 and Textured Knitted Shorts, $99Anna Linen Tiered Midi Dress, $199 Im not usually a mini dress girl, but the beautiful pattern and relaxed ease of this long-sleeved linen number totally won me over. Petite gals like myself might need to get it hemmed tall girls, rejoice! It comes in regular and long lengths, but its definitely worth the extra effort. Im always on the hunt for a practical sandal that isnt boring, and believe me when I say, these blow a basic Birkenstock style out of the park. Not only are the molded footbeds extremely comfortable, but the double buckle and white stitching detail really elevate the otherwise casual shape. As a member of a tennis club with a white-and-blue logo, this was an easy pick for me. The only downside? Im having trouble justifying getting the skirt version, too, and I really want both. For now, the Amy dress wins out thanks to the collared neckline and tie-waist middle. A friend recommended this bikini top to me after I complimented the pattern, hyping up the padded fixed cups as ideal for someone with a larger chest. She nailed it Im obsessed. I also appreciate that most of Bodens swimsuits have matching cover-up options, like this incredible Printed Sarong Scarf. Ive already got my basic white and black linen separates locked in for summer, but Bodens Paradise Green colorway is so enticing, I might have to snag this set, too. I love the look together, but both pieces are equally good for mixing and matching with the rest of my wardrobe. Rik Rak trim is such a classic preppy staple, but I dont think Ive ever seen a swimsuit utilize it the way this strapless style does across the bust (BTW, it comes with removable straps). This particular suit comes in three colorways, but Im partial to the unique Chocherry and Jewel option, a combination I dont often see in swimwear. When I think of Boden, I mostly think linen, but this embroidered cotton cardigan is a reminder of just how vast their offering truly is. This looks like the kind of piece I could only dream of finding at the coolest vintage store in town. Butter yellow this, butter yellow thatBodens on it! And this halter-style neckline is just begging to be styled with a beachy updo and a summery shell earring. Whos going to make it happen? Given the breadth of color in Bodens offering, these rainbow flats feel like the ultimate wear-with-everything sandal but for those seeking something more subdued, they also come in the most gorgeous muted metallic gold. A striped midi skirt is perhaps the most perennial summer staple of all time. Im personally having a hard time deciding between the blue and green versions, both of which I know Id get a ton of wear out of with all the GWTs (Good White Tops) in my closet. Im not surprised this set is almost sold out; I mean, just look at it! Knit shorts can be tricky to style, so having a matching short-sleeved sweater like this one makes the look easy to pull off. Id just as easily throw the top on with some white pants or denim shorts, though. Every summer wardrobe needs a perfect red dress, be it for Fourth of July festivities or everyday styling. The Anna dresss tiered skirt and midi length is ideal for dressing up or down. And before you ask, yes, it has pockets. Skip to content Choosing a selection results in a full page refresh.
