British architecture 2 reading answers

By the late 1980s the Modern Movement, unfairly blamed for the social experiments implicit in high-rise housing, had lost out to irony and spectacle in the shape of post-modernism, with its cheerful borrowings from anywhere and any period. What are the issues that this phenomenon is causing and what can be a few possible remedies? B. This period also saw the use of new materials, such as iron and glass, leading to groundbreaking designs like the Crystal Palace, built for the Great Exhibition of 1851. The topic states how most schools offer physical education programs to their students in some form or the other. The topic asks whether children behave better when they are physically punished or rewarded. Talk about both points of view while expressing your opinion. A greater sense of security led to more outward-looking buildings, as opposed to the medieval arrangement where the physical defense created houses that faced inward onto a courtyard or series of courtyards. The Tudor Era: A Blend of Tradition and Innovation The 16th century ushered in the Tudor style, a transition phase that blended the Gothic with the emerging Renaissance influences. Task 2: This task requires candidates to write an essay in response to a point of view, argument, or problem. I believe that physical education is important for the growth of every child. Hence, to sum up, I believe that children should learn foreign languages from primary school, since it comes with more advantages than disadvantages. Sample Essay Topic: Several experts are of the opinion that children should ideally start learning foreign languages from primary school instead of the secondary school level. Do you agree or disagree with this statement? Discuss Both Views and Give Your Point of View/Opinion You can structure your opinion essay in this manner. Though both exams have a writing task that contributes to the evaluation of the candidate's language skills, the topics differ, requiring a thorough understanding of the syllabus. Main Body- Go in-depth into the points discussed in the introduction Explain the topic sentence and use proper vocabulary Support your statements with examples 3. F. Cricketers have more stardom than even movie actors today, with higher endorsements and acting offers than the latter. Businesses usually have two most important functions, marketing, and innovation. This visual engagement is always different and compelling in comparison to screen-based viewing. It will slowly but steadily bring about a sense of pride in young people regarding their voting rights. Body Paragraph 2: Come up with your first main point supporting your opinion. IELTS Writing Task 2 Essays & Their Categories In IELTS Writing Task 2, candidates will encounter various types of essays. These modern technologies help individuals access the internet to send and receive content and media by clicking on some simple buttons. Do you agree? Essay 3 Marketing and promotion is the key to a successful business. The most important trends in early 20th-century architecture simply passed Britain by. In my opinion, the possible solutions could be cross-border agreements/pacts that allow young people in other countries to cast their votes in their home nations. To conclude, I feel that not only is physical education important, but it is also required at least till a certain academic/educational level, without being made optional. Candidates must write at least 150 words and should spend about 20 minutes on this task. Body Paragraph 1: Showcase the first view. Body Paragraph 2: Write your second main point supporting your opinion. In such an instant, without marketing, brands are not able to prove the credibility and quality of their products and services. Rather, what parents should do is first lead by example and teach children the basics while gently correcting them whenever they go wrong. Sample Essay Topic: Younger populations in several global nations are neglecting their right to vote in several cases. More people are now carrying mobile phones to classes, leading to distractions and sharing of unauthorized pictures online. Castles served their particular purpose and their battlements and turrets were for use rather than ornament. British architecture during this period was influenced by the international style, characterized by minimal ornamentation and a focus on horizontal lines. It opens up whole new worlds of books, movies, theatre, food, and whatnot. Discuss both points of view before expressing your opinion. Effective marketing keeps the brand at the top in the mind of the customers so that they can recall every time they need a particular service or product. By contrast, brands that market products poorly cannot attract or grab the attention of customers, which means that products and services are left unsold. The same holds true for magazines to a large extent as well. Markets are banning plastic usage, but shopkeepers still keep using them despite Government restrictions. This will eventually contribute towards stemming the higher levels of obesity among teenagers and young adults worldwide. E. Nowadays, with innovation, every brand has good products and services. Through marketing, a particular brand can grab the attention of all its potential customers. Body Paragraph 2: Next comes the second view. This should be done throughout the year and not just before the elections. They will only behave better when they see examples of the same in their parents and are lovingly taught about the merits of the same. Body Paragraph 2: Provide solutions to the problem, explain how these solutions can be implemented, and provide examples. However, newspapers and magazines will always be around, perhaps in more sustainable versions. Most of us do not spend much time talking to our parents amidst our busy lives. Yet, while this approach may have its merits, I do not agree with the same since I feel that it robs children of the spontaneity and joy that childhood brings. Task 2: In this second writing task, candidates must write an essay in response to a point of view, argument, or problem. What makes a difference is how you market the products and services to your potential customers. The huge glass-and-iron Crystal Palace, designed by Joseph Paxton to house the Great Exhibition of 1851, shows another strand to 19th-century architecture – one which embraced new industrial processes. We as human beings are sensory creatures and there is always an inherent attraction that the print format brings to the table, something that cannot be replicated through a screen. This style, inspired by the classical architecture of ancient Greece and Rome, was a response to the ornate Baroque style. Even for the biggest of mistakes, sitting down with the child and talking about it will always work better than punishments. Here are a few essay samples so that aspirants can prepare well. People are steadily going back to the joint family system after having experimented with nuclear families in the past. Television and video games are fully detrimental to the health of children and their overall development. One of the biggest issues in major cities is the population explosion, with unbridled migration from other towns and regions. Physical punishment is something that I cannot endorse in any form. There was also a general move towards balanced and symmetrical exteriors with central entrances. Here are some reasons that substantiate the same. Discuss both viewpoints before stating your opinion. Furthermore, when commuting time is reduced significantly, individuals get a lot of free time for themselves and their loved ones. In contrast, a few rupees is all it takes to purchase a newspaper, and it is readily available everywhere. Thirdly, a large reason behind the investments in cutting-edge photography and visual content is to ensure that people see them in print. But it wasn't long before even this confidence in progress came to be regarded with suspicion. What do you feel is the right solution to this problem? Not everyone can go on to be a sportsperson in life. With the exception of Inigo Jones (1573-1652), whose confident handling of classical detail and proportion set him apart from all other architects of the period, most early 17th-century buildings tended to take the innocent exuberance of late Tudor work one step further. Conclusion: Summarize both views and restate your opinion. The architectural landscape of Britain tells a fascinating story of cultural and historical evolution, characterized by a variety of styles that have emerged, evolved, and sometimes intertwined over centuries. It sought to revive the simplicity and elegance of classical forms. Conclusion: Summarize the problem and solutions and emphasize the importance of addressing the issue. The essay should have a length of 250 words at least and candidates have 40 minutes to complete this task. Children should be allowed to live freely and make their own mistakes. Why is this necessary in the first place? However, physical education at a basic level is essential in order to teach children discipline, the art of mastering their body movement, and of course, promote healthy living and fitness from an early age. Hence, it is more important than ever to learn foreign languages in order to communicate, collaborate, share ideas, and of course, foster academic, research, and professional growth at multiple levels. Hence, this may cause several problems, which may also have a few possible solutions. On the exam day, after reading the question, they can write down the special vocabulary related to the discussion and use synonyms, idioms, special expressions, and phrases. Do the advantages of wealth clearly surpass the disadvantages? H. These structures were not just buildings; they were symbolic representations of religious devotion and the burgeoning power of the church. It took the Norman Conquest of 1066 to bring back the light, and the 6th-century cathedral-builders of the Middle Ages played an important part in the revival of British culture. I strongly agree with this statement. These are the core reasons that lie behind my strong disagreement with the proposition. This allowed for much more innovation in the way of exterior ornament, windows, reflecting a shift from the religious to the secular in architecture. This represented a shift away from the traditional private individuals who had dominated the architectural scene for centuries. What do you feel is the reason behind this trend? But during the 1640s and 50s the Civil War and its aftermath sent many gentlemen and nobles to the Continent either to escape the fighting or, when the war was lost, to follow Charles II into exile. Do the benefits of this practice outweigh the disadvantages? Gothic architecture, which flourished from the late 12th century to the 16th century, was marked by pointed arches, ribbed vaults, and flying buttresses – an innovation that allowed buildings to be taller and more light-filled than ever before.
