How to report a leaking fire hydrant. Who is responsible for a leaking fire hydrant. How to report a damaged fire hydrant. What to do when a fire hydrant is leaking. Who to call for a leaking fire hydrant.

If you don't like guided tours, that eliminates another half dozen. Buy more days, and the pass costs more. A build-your-own pass offers fewer attractions and is good for 30 days after your first use, but you can choose only the attractions you want to visit. We may receive commissions on purchases made from our chosen links. Our editors independently research, test, and recommend the best products and services; you can learn more about our review process here. If you skip one because you're tired, you don't get a refund or an extension. Go San Diego will save money if you: Buy a three-to-five day pass and visit all the big-ticket attractions (SeaWorld, Legoland, San Diego Zoo, and Safari Park) or visit three or four of the smaller attractions per day. Take a closer look at that long list: You'll see that some attractions are not in San Diego, but in Anaheim, Orange County, or even Hollywood. Lost passes are not replaceable or refundable. Some attractions require reservations: After you buy the pass, you may need to make reservations for some tours. Of all California's top tourist destinations, San Diego has the most attractions that charge high admission fees, with five of the top dozen attractions charging well more than $50 per adult ticket, and three others requiring an admission fee. We poked, prodded, clicked, and peered at the fine print. You also can choose from pre-built packages for the most popular attractions. The California Explorer Pass that gives you the option of 3, 4 or 5 attractions for one price. We even made a spreadsheet to calculate the savings, all of that so you don't have to. The only way to know for sure: Add it up. If you pack your schedule too tightly and get too pooped to finish them all, your savings will plummet. You can choose from different types of Go San Diego: The basic version (called all-inclusive) covers all the pass' offered attractions for a fixed price, valid for a maximum number of days that you choose. Only longer-duration passes include SeaWorld (three days or more). For other attractions that take less time, there may be significant travel time to get from one to another. Group your pass activities: You can use the rest of the trip for doing other things. The pass will probably save you some money, but for most people, it won't be as much as the ads claim. It almost sounds too good to believe, so we set out to find out the truth about the smartphone discount pass. You can buy the pass online on the Go City website. Published Date: Nov. However, not everyone wants to see the top sights, and these insights may help you make sense of it all. But not too far. Buy the digital pass and either print it at home or download it to your smartphone. Some attractions offered may not interest you: For example, if you don't like to go to museums, that takes about 20 attractions off the list. And once you break even, you'll save on every little thing you do after that. 13, 2019 | Did you find this article helpful? However, some people say it introduced them to enjoy activities they might not have found on their own. Extend that to a more reasonable five days and you'd save about 20 percent. Read all the details so you aren't disappointed. You can't buy a Go San Diego pass at the attraction box offices, so you need to plan ahead. This will help you figure out whether it's a good idea for your vacation. Those attractions are why most people visit the city, and if you plan to do them all, you'll probably use your pass a lot. If the list of things you want to do becomes too small, the pass might not save you money. Only you know which attractions you want to visit and how much you're willing to rush them to pack everything in. Think of Go San Diego as a volume discounter. You can return unused passes for a full refund for a year after purchase, but why not just wait until you're sure about your trip dates? A museum-hating, guided-tour-avoiding vacationer who isn't going to leave San Diego is left with about two dozen attractions to choose from. Get realistic about how much you can do. The providers of the pass negotiate with local tourist attractions for discounts and sell them as pass-based packages. Take seven instead, don't do anything else, and the savings fall to just 5 percent. For issues concerning Fire Hydrants, please contact San Antonio Water Systems (SAWS) at (210) 704-7297. More about SAWS. Using it is simple. You would have to go there to enjoy them, which may or may not be part of your vacation plan. The big attractions will each take a full day, and some are far apart. Thanks for letting us know! Go San Diego makes claims that are enough to make a person skeptical: "Save up to 55 percent" on lots of attractions, it advertises. The more you choose, the greater the discount. After it's used the first time, the pass is good for the number of days you chose, but those must be consecutive days. Except for the rare multi-day pass, you can visit each attraction only once. If you're prone to losing things (or forgetting to take them on a trip), the pass may not be for you. If you crammed all the activities that are the top things to do in San Diego into three days, you could save almost 40 percent, but you'd be so rushed you wouldn't have much time to enjoy them. Just take your printed or mobile Go Pass to any included San Diego attraction, present it at the ticket window, and you're in. A quick way to get all the prices you need for that is to use the Go Select page, where they show current prices.
