A Written by Telias on 02.11.2021 at 16:53 This guide on bad guys is designed for beginners and advanced players in this WoW class. First, in our Shadowlands class guide, we will elect all possible combinations of race and class. In the beginners guide you will find basic information such as the features and the way to play the villain. More extensively are our class guides for all three bad specializations. There is information about all talents, talents of honor, pact skills and animators. Our guides contain the standard skills for level 60. During rotation, you will learn which skills have the highest priority and when used. Finally, there is information about the distribution of value and an overview of the best elements (BiS) with the indication of their origin. Other class guides on World of Warcraft are connected in the top menu. Back to overview The patch 9.1.5 is a small patch, which also made numerous class changes in World of Warcraft. A fundamental change in different classes is the elimination of the AoE cap. In this way, surface effects now affect all opponents, but cause less damage from a number of opponents. Otherwise, there are the following class changes for the rogue. SCHURKEY The following surface effects skills no longer have a target limit and instead cause reduced damage starting from the 5th Objective: Secret Technique (deception) The following surface effects skills no longer have a target limit and instead cause reduced damage from the 8th. The bonuses awarded are always those that are not available for your specialization. For example, a rogue receives adrenaline and shadow blades. A mistake was corrected by which the shadow blades generated by the legendary toxic effect did not affect some secondary specialization skills. The effect of the septic 'Shock' night medium was increased by 50%. LAW The first blow with the talent "Lama dell'orrore" causes 26Â% more damage and immediately fills your combined points in addition to current effects. COURSES It was correcterror that caused the Encouragement in combination with the 'simboli della morte' has always achieved critical results. Back to overview The patch 9.1 starts at Season 2 in Shadowlands, which means that the maximum limit of the object level will be raised. So we're gonna have a better loot from the Dungeon and the raids from the Shadow Lands. The difficulty level and the object are increased in the Dungeons Mythisch+ and instead of Nathria Castle we collect the equipment in the new Raid Sanctum of Kingdom instance. An overview of the BiS-Gear from patch 9.1 is available in our class guides. Back to overview The patch 9.0.5 includes numerous class changes for all classes, which appear as follows. For more details, see the notes on patches 9.0.5. Patch 9.0.5: The Patch 9. received in Mythisch+ Dungeons. However, this only works for counterparties we collected after the release of patch 9.0.5. The skates guarantee exclusive signature and class skills, so the choice of the right pact is important. Through spiritual bonds, we learn new talents. These are different depending on the bond of soul and the covenant should be well weighted. Each Soul Talent Tree contains blank slots for so-called media. They are found in different ways and strengthened by new legendary tapestries to them by carving runes to the rune butcher shop in Torghast.
