Learn where to find all the classics, as well as contemporary hits, in this guest post by Corona, CA teacher Milton J.. Looking for Broadway sheet music? Here are four awesome resources to check out! Whether you're a beginner or an experienced musician, you're sure to find what you need. Happy sheet music hunting! Where Can I Find Musical Theatre Sheet Music? Juan Jose Lopez Brotons / EyeEm/Getty Images Here are a few places you can find Broadway sheet music easily: Scribd.com Ultimate Theater Music Resource for Singres Musicnotes.com Sheet Music Plus Excavating the Song IMSLP Still feeling stuck? Don't be afraid of asking your instructor about where to find Broadway sheet music, either - and don't forget, sheet music isn't just for singers. There are plenty of other great Broadway sheet music resources out there for other instruments, too. Still haven't signed up for singing lessons? You can do so here - and be sure to check out the video below with some of the best reasons to consider taking singing lessons: Where to Find Cheap or Free Broadway Sheet Music Ozgur Donmaz/DigitalVision/Getty Images So, you're thoroughly enjoying your vocal lessons with your wonderful TakeLessons teacher, and you're ready to embark on your own to find new music to learn, preferably Broadway musicals (those power vocals of yours need applicable songs, of course!). Where should you start? Well, there are a few really wonderful services to find both computer-based and physical sheet music of some of your favorite Broadway selections. Below is a detailed list of these services. 1. Scribd.com Scribd is a digital library, featuring an eBook subscription service that includes many free and paid books, magazines, and yes, Broadway sheet music. The service is available for iPhone/iPad, Android, Kindle, Nook, and Windows Phone smartphones and tablets, as well as on the web at Scribd.com, all for a monthly fee of $8.99 (or $3.99 with 12-month commitment). Scribd also offers a completely free one-month trial, which you can use to browse for music first. Use the search parameter "Broadway music" to sort through the different selections that you can save into your library. From there you can save the files to your computer or device, or even print it all out then. 2. Ultimate Theatre Music Resource for Singers A student of mine came across this well-versed, purely educational-use-only Tumblr blog. Within this blog, links to PDF sources of sheet music, mostly Broadway sheet music, are provided for free. The links are highlighted and underlined within the blog comments itself, so take a look around and read some of the posts to understand how the links to the sheet music are provided. 3. Musicnotes.com Musicnotes.com is an online marketplace that allows you to purchase and download computer-based sheet music, which you can either keep digital or print out. They offer many selections from Broadway, plus pop, holiday, and power ballads as well! Prices range from $4-$8 depending on the arrangement, which is quite reasonable if monthly subscriptions aren't your thing. 4. Sheet Music Plus Sheet Music Plus is another online marketplace that allows you to purchase both digital print and physical print sheet music. They stock both individual selections as well as multiple Broadway selections in songbook form. Since there are usually many songs within the same songbook, this can be a very cost-effective way to get several Broadway standards in your hands at a good price. You can usually find songbooks reserved for certain voice types (Baritone, Tenor, Alto, Soprano 2, or Soprano 1 voice types most commonly). Honorable Mentions: Excavating the Song: This website was set up by choral director Prof. Neal Richardson from Webster University in St. Louis, Missouri, for use with his own students. Even though he has now abandoned the online project, the website's content-including some great tips from singers, songs from the 20s, and more- is still available for free. IMSLP: The Petrucci Library with the International Music Score Library Project is usually used when searching for classical music, as it's the archive of music for free public domain music. Since I am a classically-trained singer, I use it a lot and often sing its praises. If you decide to expand your genre scope, start here before you buy any classical music. What Are the Easiest Broadway Songs to Sing? joshblakeE+/Getty Images Now that you know where to find Broadway sheet music, all that's left is to decide on a song! When it comes to belting out a tune, not all Broadway songs are created equal. Some are notoriously difficult to sing, with soaring vocal ranges and complex melodies. Others are much easier to master, and can be sung by anyone with a basic understanding of musical theater. So what are the easiest Broadway songs to sing? Some classics, like "Defying Gravity" from Wicked or "Memory" from Cats, have become popular because they can be sung by amateur singers with relative ease. Other easier Broadway tunes include "The Streets of Philadelphia" from Philadelphia and "Seasons of Love" from Rent. So next time you're itching to perform a show tune, pick one of these easier songs and give it your best shot! Where to Find Broadway Sheet Music By Instrument Thomas Barwick/DigitalVision/Getty Images Sheet music is an essential part of any musician's repertoire, and Broadway tunes are no exception. When it comes to finding sheet music for Broadway hits, there are a few different places to look. For starters, many music stores carry a selection of popular Broadway sheet music. In addition, there are a number of online retailers that specialize in selling sheet music, and many of them offer a wide range of Broadway titles. Finally, there are a few websites that offer free downloads of popular Broadway sheet music. Whichever route you choose, make sure to do some research to find the best source for the specific piece of sheet music you're looking for. With a little effort, you should be able to find the perfect arrangement for your next performance. Broadway Clarinet Sheet Music For many aspiring musicians, the thought of playing on Broadway is a dream come true. Unfortunately, the cost of purchasing Broadway-quality sheet music can be prohibitively expensive. For those on a budget, there are a few options for finding affordable clarinet sheet music. One option is to search online auction sites for well-known songs. Another option is to look for used music stores in your area that specialize in Broadway sheet music. Finally, many public libraries have a good selection of popular musicals that can be checked out for free. Whatever route you choose, with a little effort it is possible to find high-quality Broadway clarinet sheet music at a fraction of the cost. Broadway Piano Sheet Music If you want to find Broadway piano sheet music, there are a few places you can look. One option is to search for it online. There are a number of websites that sell or offer free piano sheet music, and many of them have a section devoted to Broadway tunes. Another option is to head to your local music store. Many stores carry a wide variety of sheet music, and they may have a good selection of Broadway tunes as well. Finally, you could always check out a local library. Libraries typically have a wide variety of books and sheet music available for borrowing, and you may be able to find what you're looking for there. Some popular examples of Broadway tunes include "Defying Gravity" from Wicked, "Memory" from Cats, and "Someone to Watch Over Me" from Oh, Kay!. Of course, this is just a small sampling of the hundreds of amazing songs that have come from the Great White Way. So whatever your favorite show or musical may be, chances are good that you'll be able to find the Sheet Music you're looking for. Happy hunting! Broadway Violin Sheet Music Broadway sheet music can be found in a variety of places, from online retailers to brick-and-mortar music stores. When looking for Broadway violin sheet music, it is important to consider the difficulty level of the piece and the intended audience. For example, a beginner violinist may want to start with a simpler piece like "Twinkle Twinkle Little Star," while an experienced player might be able to tackle a more challenging piece like "The Phantom of the Opera." There are many online retailers that sell Broadway sheet music, so it is easy to find what you are looking for. A quick search on Google or another search engine will turn up a variety of results. In addition, most major music stores carry at least some Broadway sheet music, so it is worth checking there as well. Whichever way you choose to find your sheet music, make sure to take the time to preview the piece before purchasing it to ensure that it is the right level of difficulty for you. Be Creative in Your Search for Broadway Sheet Music NickyLloyd/E+/Getty Images Whether you're a seasoned performer or just starting out, we hope you found these resources helpful. If you're looking for more sheet music or want to start taking lessons, be sure to check out our other posts for the best of the best in online Broadway sheet music. And sign up for music lessons ASAP so you can get started with your music career today! I hope this list helps you get started on finding Broadway sheet music for your lessons! Happy practicing!
