1 Connect your jambox speaker to the wall. It is supplied with a charger cable that fits into a 2-pole wall socket. 2 Choose to connect your jambox directly to your computer to load it. You can connect a USB microcable to your jambox. Connect the other end to the USB port. Make sure you don't connect the USB microcable to a keyboard. You will not charge if connected to a computer accessory other than a USB hub. 3 Wait for the light of the LED ring on the side of the jambox to flash a white light. It will shine a red light until it is charged. It takes about two or five hours to fully load a jambox. 4 Disconnect the charger cable when the charging is complete. 1 Keep the switch on the side of the jambox in the SUJ position for three seconds. 2 Listen for an audio message from the jambox that informs you that it is in pairing mode. The light of the LED ring should flash red and white. 3 Lower the ignition button in the central position. There is a higher, middle and lower position. 1 Carry your iPhone within 33 feet (10.1 m) (11 yard) of your jambox. You will be able to pair via Bluetooth at this distance or not. Turn on the iPhone. Go to your initial screen. Select the Settings app. 3 Find the word "bluetooth" near the top of your list of settings. You touch it. 4 Run the Bluetooth radio button into the ON position if it is off. Wait a few seconds to look for devices. 5 Find Jawbone's Jambox in the list of available devices. You touch it. 6 Enter the general password of '90000'. Your jambox and iPhone should be connected. Add a new question Question What should I do if my mini jawbone jambox does not match my iPhone 8? There is a small Pairing button under the main switch on the side of the speaker. It has two small on it. Hold this button until the speaker says: "Big Jambox is in coupling mode". Question What happens if the music doesn't play? Disconnect from Bluetooth and reconnect. If the music doesn't play yet, restart the Jambox. Question What should I do if my Jambox Jambox and plays for a short time, but then disappears? In that case, there might be a technical problem with the jambox, so you might want to replace it. Alternatively, make sure you have a strong Internet connection. Your jambox might disconnect occasionally. Question What happens if you don't ask for a password? It should be connected, then. Question Why @ My jam box doesn't go in pairing mode? I don't understand a flashing red light. Follow the steps above carefully by holding the power switch for three seconds and should pair. Question My iPhone does not recognize the jambox. What should I do? Just click a button on the side of the jetb, and you will say "Welcome to the Coupling Mode". Click on Jambox jambox in Bluetooth and you will be connected. Ask a question. Thank you. If the phone can see the mini jambox as nearby Bluetooth device, but cannot"pair up" "to it, it is likely that you are experiencing a software problem. The most common solution for this problem is to perform a Bluetooth reset or software update. This repair does not require you to dismantle your device. Even if nothing is inserted in the back door, the mini jambox Thinking that it has a connected auxiliary cable. The mini Jambox provides the priority of physical auxiliary connection on the wireless Bluetooth connection. Basically, the Jambox is trying to play music through the IL Auxiliary cord. To fix this, you need to clean the auxiliary door. Please refer to the guide "The port is blocked" below. If you don't fix it, you're gonna have to replace the auxiliary door. If other solutions do not work, the MINI JAMBOX 128 motherboard; He may have failed. If this is true, JAMBOX will not be able to pair over Bluetooth at all. You will need to fully open your device and replace the motherboard. NOTE: Replacing the motherboard implies the description from the grip. This can be very difficult and could damage your device. JAMBOX cannot play music with the auxiliary connection (headset). If the music stops when the cable is moved, the auxiliary cable may be defective. Check the auxiliary cable for cuts and parades or try to use another cable. If the problem persists, the auxiliary door is likely to be blocked or damaged. Check the auxiliary door for any blocks. If there are debris inside, this could prevent the auxiliary cable from connecting to MINI JAMBOX. Remove the auxiliary cable, turn off your JAMBOX, and try to remove the block using small tweezers or computer duster. CAUTION: If you are not nice, the tweezers could permanently damage the auxiliary door The port may have suffered some form of damage and cannot be recovered. As the last beach, you can replace the auxiliary port. Even after charging, the device does not respond or the device is dying very quickly Make sure the charging cable is well connected both to the micro-USB port of MINI JAMBOX and to the wall socket or computer. Note that some computers need to be turned on to load through the USB port. The cable connecting MINI JAMBOX to the USB port could be broken or worn out. Check the extremities for wear. Try charging MINI JAMBOX with a micro USB cable Lithium batteries Ion has a limited duration. If your MINI JAMBOX has crossed a high amount of charging/unloading cycles, the battery candeteriorate. To solve this problem, you need to replace the battery. This is a complex process and should only be attempted if the problem is making the device unusable. Warning: Removing the battery may cause further damage. The music played through the speakers seems distorted or wrong. The audio drivers on the mini jambox may be outdated or corrupt. An easy solution is running a software upgrade. Test where the problem is trying to play music through auxiliary input. If music can be played through the auxiliary connection, but not Bluetooth, see â ~ Bluetooth does not connect in the section. Distorted sound, especially at high volume, is indicative of a blown speaker. This can occur from overheating or overuse. If you're sure the speakers are skipping, you might try replacing them. WARNING: Changing the speakers is a complex process and may cause further damage to the speaker. The battery might be low in charge or it might not cost anything. See â ~ "Section of battery life of the battery." The buttons are sticky and do not perform the desired function when pressed. Try to clean the surface of the button with a Q tip and some rubbing alcohol. It can help pick up a dust around the edges of the button with a toothpick. Be careful not to let debris enter the device while you clean it. If the button (s) still does not respond after cleaning the surface, you need to erase the internal debris. If the side buttons (power coupling and Bluetooth) are jammed, use the Cleaning Guide here. here.
