Page 1 of 40 Prev12345678910Next There's a choice that we have to make as people, as individuals. If you want to be great at something, there's a choice you have to make. We all can be masters at our craft, but you have to make a choice. What I mean by that is, there are inherent sacrifices that come along with that. Family time, hanging out with friends, being a great friend, being a great son, nephew, whatever the case may be. There are sacrifices that come along with making that decision. Everybody has a different journey. Page 2 You just stay patient, that's all. I wanna be the best, simple and plain I'm chasing perfection. Everybody shut up. Let us work. Page 3 There's a through line that connects all of us. I'm a scorer, not a triple-double player Page 4 I'm not the most patient of people... Only an idiot would doubt my return Page 5 I draw from the crowd a lot. If I panic, everyone else panics. I'm going to be the Will Smith of the NBA. Nobody in the world can guard me one-on-one. Page 6 People look at my competitive spirit, and they automatically attach it to the thing that's most similar, most easily recognizable, which is Michael [Jordan's] competitive spirit. I'm different. I enjoy building. I enjoy the process of putting the puzzle together, and then the byproduct of that, the consequence of that, is beating somebody. That becomes the cherry on top, the icing on the cake. "Kobe Bryant Q&A: Future, fashion, legacy and Lamar Odom". Interview with Sam Amick, www.usatoday.com, February 26, 2015. Page 7 There's a much bigger world out there. I was an idiot when I was a kid. Because we're old as sh*t. What do you want? Page 8 No man is entitled to the blessings of freedom unless he be vigilant in its preservation. Title of speech to the people of Japan. May 3, 1948, upon the first anniversary of the Japanese constitution. MacArthur, A Soldier Speaks (1965), p. 194. Francis T. Miller, General Douglas MacArthur, Fighter for Freedom, p. 1, 1942. Page 1 of 6 Prev123456Next HiNativeAI You remember when you were maybe five years old and you went out in the morning and you looked at the day - and it was a very, very beautiful day. You looked at flowers and they were very beautiful flowers. Twenty-five years later, you get up in the morning, you take a look at the flowers - they are wilted. The day isn't a happy day. Well, what's changed? You know they are the same flowers, it's the same world. Something must have changed. Well, probably it was you. L. Ron Hubbard (1976).
